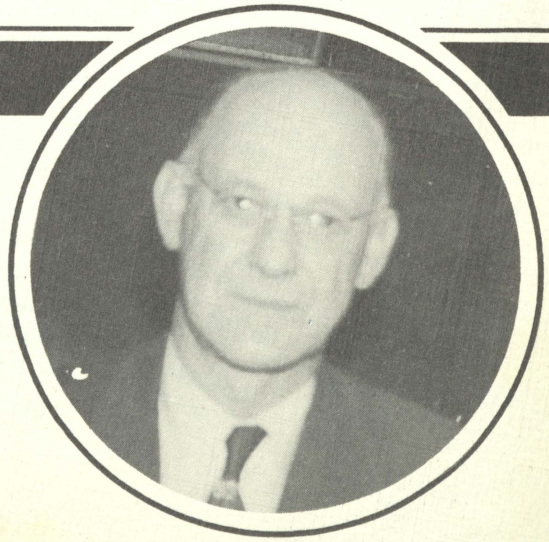
Superintendent's Message

Greetings, Class of 1952:

Each of you will carry from Washington High School an investment which, in many cases, will represent the major part of the capital which is your stock in trade with which to purchase a place in the economy of your community. Some of you have acquired much; other, perhaps, much less. Your capital consists of information, of character, and of personal qualities which may be destroyed only by your will. It is a wealth that defies economic depressions and monetary inflation. Add to this wealth as you can for learning is not confined fo formal school construction.

C. ALLEN CARLSON
Superintendent of Schools

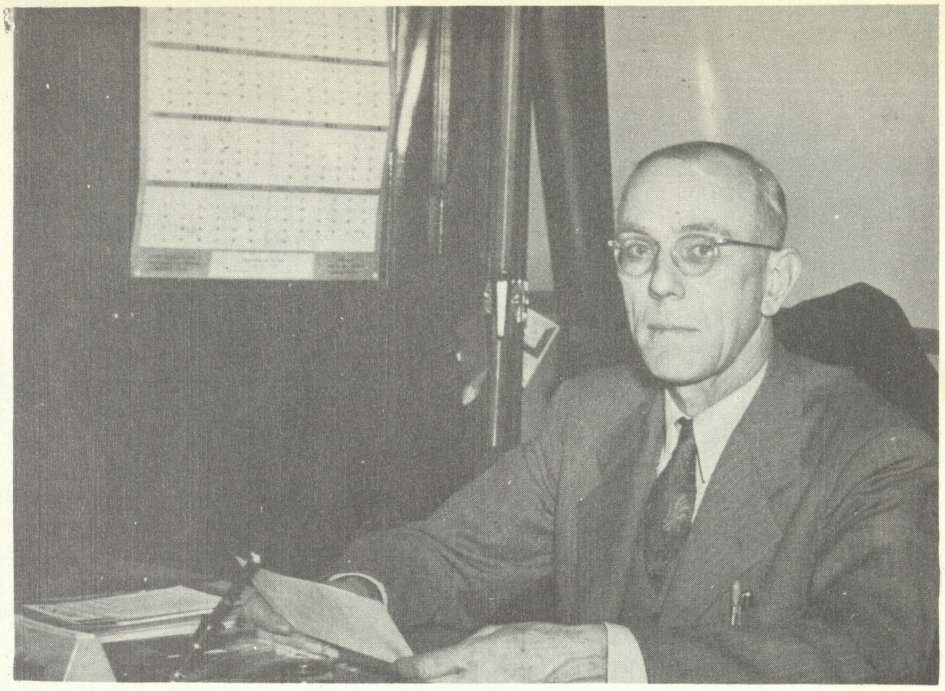


SUPERVISOR'S MESSAGE

Remembered pleasures are usually more delightful than present ones. Your yearbook, valuable now, will become more and more valuable as a source of enjoyment with the passage of time. Some future day you will come across this book, possibly in the dusty recesses of the attic, and, sitting on an old trunk or on the floor you will hold a reunion with all of the people and places which make up your daily life now. The flood of memories dammed up within the covers of this book will gush out and, for a time, submerge all the troubles of the day. Best wishes to you all.

JOHN L. BOND
Supervisor of Secondary Education

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE



At the end of many a school year I have wondered just what I should say if I could have a final word of summary of all the things that we have tried to "get across" to the people who are graduating -- a thought that might be easy to remember through the years. I know of no improvement on just such a summary that I did for my first graduating class some years ago. So I say to you what I said to them. Wherever you go, whatever you do, always remember to think; to be honest; to "play fair"; and to observe the ideals of goodsportsmanship.

Then if I might add a wish to you, it is, whatever your level of success in the world, above all other things that you find genuine happiness. To you my best wishes in the search.

Class History

How big Washington High School looked to us that first day in September 1946 as we enbarked on our new adventure. How we envied the upper classmen who knew their way about and had that air of having the situation well in hand. Our sponsors that first year were Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Bloodsworth who quickly set us on the right path and soon we were part of the crowd. We gave our first assembly, a play entitled THE COURTSHIP OF MILES STANDISH. The year passed quickly with the many activities.

The next year our new sponsors were Miss Warren and Mr. Barile. We were introduced to Core that year which sounded very mystifying to us at first but proved to be just a new method of teaching old subjects. Our annual assembly was based on the theme OUR SOUTH AMERICAN NEIGHBORS which we studied in this new core. Soon this year was over and we were beginning our last year of Junior High.

It was in our freshman year that we organized as a class and with the help of our sponsors, Miss Holland and Mr. Phillips, we gave our first dance, a "Spring Jubilee." We also gave our first strawride which proved to be a great success.

When we came back to school in the fall of 1949, we chose our courses and settled down to real work. Under the direction of our sponsors, Mr. Phillips and Mr. Barile, we gave a dance called "Hearts Heaven" named because of the decorations. A large number of our class organized into a singing group and we entertained at the Future Farmers of America banquet, Parent - Teachers' meetings and at commencement. We were proud to have Shirley Lankford chosen queen of the Future Farmers' of America Annual Livestock Show but sorry to lose her soon afterwards when she left school to be married. We were saddened by the death of one of our teachers, Miss Mary Lu Chamberlin. She will long be remembered by everyone. We looked forward to the following year when we would be Juniors.

This was to be a big year. We found our sponsors to be two new faculty members, Miss Dolbeare and Mr. Cresson. Our first social event, a barn dance, proved a big success. Our next effort was our Junior Minstrel which we are proud to say we wrote ourselves entitling it "It Happened At The Sunglow." Our class took honors in the County Declamation contest with Diane Barnes and Bill James winning the girls and boys honor respectively. The highlight of the year was the Junior - Senior Prom. Pat Hall and Teddy Evans were crowned Queen and King of the affair and to the music of the Metronomes, we danced the evening away. Catherine Peterman was elected president of the Student Council. We felt that she would be most competent and successful in the job. Wedding bells rang for three more members of our class, Carley Camp, Joan Harding and Cora Lou Hopkins. Thus we ended a very active and interesting year.

This was it! We had now attained our long sought for goal - - to be a Senior. With our new sponsors, Mrs. Pittman and Mr. Leckey, we elected class officers as follows: President - Maurice Bozman; Vice President - Pam Bond; Secretary - Diane Barnes; Treasurer - Betty Sturgis Class rings were ordered and awaited for with anxiety. Our first activity of the year was a Harvest Dance and with a floor show and other added features the evening proved a gala affair. A part of the class attended Senior Day at the University of Maryland. A tour of the Campus, dinner, and an exciting football game were some of the high - lights of the trip. We said goodbye to four more class members, Frances Poly- ette, Irene Evans, Dot Fagan and "Bunk" Evans who took the trip to the altar. Next on the list was the Christmas Dance when from out of the yuletide confus- sion we managed to reserve one night to enjoy ourselves. Christmas also meant the annual Christmas assembly always given by the Seniors which included a play and Santa with all his gifts. With the new and final year we decided to give a Senior Class Play which proved to be a great success. Senior Day at S. T. C. was looked forward to and attended by most of the members of our class. The last social event of the year was the Junior - Senior Prom which we will always remember with fond memories as one of the happiest nights of our lives. Before we knew it we were practicing for graduation and then the long trek was over and we were marching down the aisle, diplomas clutched in hand, toward the new life ahead.

Alma Mater

(Tune: High Above Cayuga's Water's)
Words: Branch H. Phillips

Here beside the old Manokin
Stands the Washington.
Where our thoughts will turn so often
When school days are done.

School of bright and ancient honor,
Proud we are of thee,
May we each make contribution to thy royalty.

Chorus:
Washington High School,
Hail! All, Hail!
Teach us now the way to be
Schoolmates worthy of thine honor,
Ever loyal to thee.

Class Song

(Tune: Stenke Resin)

Words: Branche H. Phillip

As a star at evening rising
Shedding silver glory free,
Guides a marriner to haven,
Home across the pathless sea-

So may rise a star of honor
Safe to guide us on our way,
All the years we are in high school
To our graduation day.

May that star with glowing luster
All our class with love imbue,
Washington, our Alma Mater,
Be the star of '52.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of Washington High School, at Princess Anne, Maryland, being of sound mind and body, and desiring to make disposition of our property and affairs, do publish this, our last will and testament, for the world to read and for the good of our benefactors, and do hereby void all previous testaments.

We hereby bequeath to the faculty our best regards.

To Mr. Baughan, our beloved principal, we leave our gratitude and appreciation for his help and understanding throughout our high school years.

To the individual members of the Junior Class we leave:

Peggy Heath's own interpretation of songs to Pat Fagan.

Dorothea Pittinger's easy going way and Evelyn Stump's pleasing personality to Gertrude Arminger.

Catherine Peterman's school spirit and Elizabeth Pinto's love for the Navy to Ruth Payne.

Mary Lane McNeil's dancing lessons to Vera Long.

Anna Rankin's raven hair and Florence Smith's antics in Speech Class to Kathy Ryan.

Maurice Bozman's class prestige to Vaden Brittingham.

Pam Bond's sense of humor to Millie Lou Wilson.

Betty Sturgis' nickname "Dagmar" to Joanne Rue.

Eddie Briddell's lady killing power to Richard Kemp.

Bradley Eby's FFA interest to Roy Beauchamp.

Suzanne Meredith's love for the piano and Norma Ford's outbursts in class to Carolyn Bloodsworth.

Betty Wilson's athletic ability to Pat Records.

Carolyn Whitney's Air Force wings to Joyce Ford.

Diane Barnes' permission to have dates to Anna Lee Morris.

Signe Robertson's football interest to Pauline Ashley.

Norma Hall's typing talent and June Dashiell's shorthand ability to Suzanne Lankford.

Marie Griffin's diamond to Phyllis Ann Johnson.

June Jackson's date book to Janice Bozman.

Esther Harrington's studious nature to Betty Cottman.

Nancy Simpkins' extra pounds to Shirley Jones.

Dietlind Fiederling's neat habits and Ruby Hall's blond tresses to Roberta Burns.

Barbara Thomas' lady-like ways to Margaret Reid.

Lois Ann Murray's driver's license to Jo Ann Baughan.

Bill James' "Sabre Dance" to Allen Miles.

Pete Long's musical talent and Howard Briddelle's ability to "mess up" to Richard Palma.

Janice Costen's energetic enthusiasm to Doris Hall.

Elvin Gates' helpfulness in class projects, Elwood Howard's demure way and Curtis Farrow's good naturedness to Emmons Horner.

Sara Brittingham's quick retorts to Sharlene Somers.

Franklin Nelson's ears, Preston Silvia's trips to Beckford Ave. and Tom Long's "Ridge Rocket" to Mark Nelson.

Elma Jones' martial dream to Betty Jane Boston.

Robert Filmer's drugstore position and Jimmy Hayman's priority at Crisfield High to Peter MacVeigh.

To our Sister Class, the class of 1954, we leave our ability to overcome obstacles in their path and achieve success.

Signed, this the 31st day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty - two.

Class Prophecy

TEN YEARS HENCE

Today I leave my job as secretary to Everett (Pete) Long, owner and manager of the Long Music School to go on a two week's vacation trip contacting former members of the graduating class of 1952.

Before setting out on this tour, I did a little shopping. Hurrying down Main Street in Princess Anne I stopped at Rose's Dress Shop, formerly Scotia's Ready - To - Wear. Rose Bounds, the owner, is married and tells me that the shop and housework keep her on the go. While in Rose's, I met Peggy Heath and Anna Rankin. Peggy told me that they are now operating a book shop in Westover, French books being their speciality.

Having only a little time left, I dashed out of Rose's and on down the street. In my haste I did not notice people, so I ended up in a collision with Carolyn Whitney. After we regained our composure, she told me that she and Signe Robertson are now registered nurses at the Peninsula General Hospital in Salisbury. Carolyn also said that Nancy Simpkins was doing very well managing the Nursery Department of the hospital. Bidding Carolyn goodbye, I hurried on. As I was passing the American Store Market, whom should I see but Ed Briddell, the current district manager. When I hastily told Ed of my plans, he invited me into the store where I saw Preston Silvia and Pam Bond shopping for their week's supply of groceries. Pam said that she and Preston had been married for seven years and that Preston works for the Bozman Appliance Store, owned by Maurice Bozman. Preston is the chief salesman and Pam is bookkeeper for the Princess Anne branch of the business. Turning away from Pam and Preston, I saw Bob Filmer strolling in. Bob is doing well as owner of the former Princess Anne Pharmacy.

Politely excusing myself, I hurried toward home to get a good night's sleep, for I knew I had a busy two weeks ahead.

Up early the next morning, I went to the Carey & Carey Confectionery, now run by Sara Brittingham, to grab a light breakfast. While eating, Howard Briddelle, manager of the Princess Anne Theater, strode in looking very prosperous. After a hurried breakfast, I left "Britts" Serve - U - Shop to get my train.

Once aboard the train, I relaxed and did a little daydreaming. Suddenly - - realizing that someone was staring at me, my eyes met the gaze of Diane Barnes. Diane was almost a stranger to me, although we had been very close friends during school days. We chatted about old times. I learned that Diane is now a dramatic coach in New York.

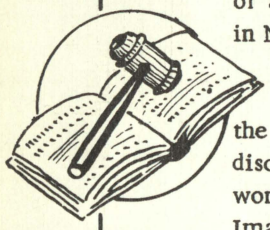
By the time I reached New York, I was pretty well exhausted, but not to the extent that I could not make a trip to Broadway to hear the quintet of our high school days, Preston Silvia, Jimmy Hayman, Franklin Nelson, Bill James, and Bradley Eby. Since they were rehearsing "Dry Bones", I slipped in quietly to hear them. How that song brought back memories of our Junior Minstrel! After the boys had finished, I ran to the stage to greet them. Naturally they wanted to hear the news from home and about their classmates. After I told Bill that Janice Costen, who had gained prominence in the field of art, sent her love, Bill gave me the "low -down" on members of the class who are in New York.



Since I was anxious to meet everyone, the boys joined me and we hurried over to the joint law firm of Tom Long and Elvin Gates. After talking with Tom for awhile, I discovered that June Dashiell and Dietlind Fiederling were their secretaries. We had a wonderful time "gabbing" and reluctantly saying goodbye, we started up Fifth Avenue. Imagine our surprise to meet Elma Jones and Marie Griffin. These girls are happily married and living in Baltimore, but were in New York on their annual shopping tour. Nice that they can afford such a luxury!

Hearing a familiar voice I turned, to see Elizabeth Pinto. Smiling happily, a characteristic of Elizabeth, she told me that she was on her way back to Princess Anne. She had been in New York to see her husband off to Cuba where he is manager of a sugar plantation. Since Liz's bus was not due to leave for a couple of hours, she asked me to accompany her to the Curtis Farrow TV Center to catch Catherine Peterman's "Tips to Homemakers" show. This is where we left the boys.

After a wonderful show, Catherine invited Liz and me to join her in a cup of coffee at a little coffee shop just around the corner. Accepting her invitation, we set out for the shop. There we met Ruby Hall, Norma Ford and Norma Hall. These girls were on their way to Radio City. I learned that Ruby and Norma Ford are now Social workers and very satisfied in their work. Ruby told me that Babs Thomas is now serving as an Air Line Hostess on the Pan - American Airways. I was very happy to hear this, knowing that Babs always wanted to do that kind of work. Norma Hall had just finished her last photo assignment at the Charles Howard Photo Studio.

Catherine said that she keeps in touch with Esther Harrington. Anxious to see Esther again, I suggested a visit. Liz had to depart in order to catch her bus, so Catherine and I went to the Chemists Building, managed by Mary Lane McNeil. Esther is supervisor of the plant and two of the up - and - coming chemists are Suzanne Meredith and Lois Ann Murray.

Leaving "Kitty" and the others, I wandered toward the Forest Hills High School to see Dorothea Pittinger teaching one of her Core Classes. "Susie" took time out to take me to the Typing Department where June Jackson was teaching a class. Leaving June and "Susie", I continued to the Library. To my surprise I was greeted by Irene Evans , chief librarian and her assistant, Betty Sturgis.

Leaving the school, I returned to my hotel room and to bed where I dreamed of a reunion of the Class of '52.

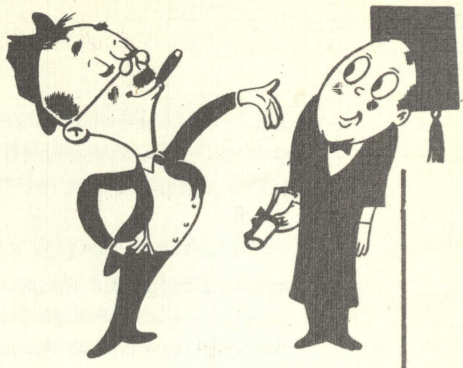
The next morning I caught a plane for Baltimore. I set out on a sight - seeing tour upon my arrival in Baltimore. While on the tour, I picked up a phone book and glancing through it saw Evelyn Stump's name. I went to Evelyn's house, but the land lady told me that she was at work, so I excused myself with a "thank you."

Following that clue, I found Evelyn behind a switchboard as operator and receptionist for a large manufacturing firm. Evelyn invited me to step into the inner office. Whom should I see sitting behind a large desk but Florence Smith. We exchanged only a few words, for I had to return to the airport to catch the 5:30 plane for Princess Anne.

A little sad and weary, but happy, I returned to Princess Anne. Yes - - - - - a little sad to leave my classmates and friends, weary from my wonderful trip, but happy to see them all doing so very well. Most of all they were happy and successful.

Maybe tomorrow, when I report to Pete, he can continue plans for a class reunion the first since we left Washington High.

Special Acknowlegements



To Mr. Branche H. Phillips, Jr., our gratitude for his untiring efforts throughout our first years of High School. Not only for his writing the words to our class song, do we thank him, but for the personal goal he gave to each of us to strive to attain, "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There".

To Mr. C. N. Baughn and the members of the faculty for their cooperation and patience throughout our high school days.

To our parents for their love for their sons and daughters and interest in the class.

To Mrs. L. Hollingsworth Pittman, our appreciation for helping to make the publication of this yearbook possible.

May 23, 1952

Dear Mary,

(My fellow victim of the Lill Permanents).
Ôll never forget that night at Nancy Sue's though. It's a wonder O ebre had my head left, huh?! But it was worth it and we had loads of fun. Remember our pigtail v.s pigtail episode in elementary school? Then there's our 4-H adventures as well. Remember your "bubbles"? Besides all our fun though, there were serious moments where we helped each other. Ôll never forget my Kings Creek neighbor.

Love and luck,

Harriett

may you have the best of everything —

May 23, 1952

Dear Mary,

I'll never forget all the good times we have had together..... Club Weeks.... school.... your home... and all the things we've done, together, with the male species too??) Yes, I guess. I hope we can always keep in touch with each other. You really know how to have fun in the right way — .

Love always,

Ellen

May 23, 1952

Dear Mary,

Ill always remember you for your advice. We sure have had some sexy ~~times~~ together. We always settle each others love affairs. (one way or the other) Try not to get shook ~~that~~ the years.

Much Love
Harold

May 23, 1952

To Mary,

Remember the night and the day after the "Lilt" Party! We all felt "good" didn't we? Be a good girl, and remember your Christian principles. I think you are a fine person.

Seek the Better Things in Life.

Your Freind,

Nancy Sue James
